Commodity Capitalism VS Intellectual Capitalism

Will we always be the 'Lucky Country'?

« An optimistic country that knows that its future rests as much on its citizen's education and inventiveness as on what it can grow, make or extract from the ground »

Australian Education Challenges

- Not a high priority on Government's Agenda;
- Challenging non-risk based regulation;
- Uncertain international education environment;
- Significant External Competition may lead in reduction in standards;
- Impact of the Digital Revolution

It is a Rapidly Changing World

- Information availability and access
 - Quantity and availability of accessible content
 - Variety, Velocity and Volume of information
 - New ways of engaging information (like interactive websites)
- Technology
 - Smartphones, tablets, e-readers
- Changes in social interaction
 - Social media
 - New search methods like SRI app
 - Direct to Resource Apps like ScienceDirect; Gale – AccessMyLibrary
- Changes in service context
 - Declining budgets
 - More diverse population leading to diverse information needs
 - Access to broadband and computing technologies
