

FUTURE OF THE LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE PROFESSION: VET LIBRARIES

BACKGROUND

In 2013, we set out to investigate the big questions about our future.

- How will libraries remain relevant for users?
- What changes will institutions and individuals in the sector experience?
- Will 'library and information professional' continue to be a necessary and desirable occupation?

We received challenging, insightful, inspiring responses to our request for feedback at events held all around Australia. As a result, we have been able to identify themes and develop actions that will support positive outcomes. The findings from the project have been produced as seven reports, available as pdf downloads from the ALIA website www.alia.org.au. This is a taster for VET libraries.

VET LIBRARIES

There were five themes that emerged, specific to TAFE and RTO (registered training organisation) libraries.

1. Disruption

There will be systemwide uncertainty in the VET sector in the short to medium term.

2. A VET future

We see a strong future for VET in the long term, and institutions will gain competitive advantage from offering an enhanced library experience for online students.

3. Level playing field

We will be advocating for library standards to be built into the government VET accreditation process.

4. Professional support

VET students will continue to need a high proportion of qualified staff to support their learning needs.

5. Our vision

The future will see consistent, well-resourced, appropriately staffed VET libraries helping students achieve the best outcomes.

GENERIC THEMES

Ten themes covered all library and information services, including school, public, university, TAFE and special libraries, and collecting institutions.

- 1. Libraries and information management
The same skills, differently interpreted.
- 2. Fair
People's love of libraries is underpinned by our contribution to a fair and just society.
- 3. Equality of opportunity
We help to overcome the gap between advantage and disadvantage.
- 4. Funding
Library users and funders have a different perception of the value of our services.
- 5. The library experience
Others provide information, but no one else provides the library experience.
- 6. Analogue and digital
We will need to look good and work well both online and in real life.
- 7. More space not less
More space for people, less space for books in our future libraries.
- 8. Stretching collection budgets
More content, in multiple formats — we will need to be smart with our money.
- 9. Community created content
Libraries will help connect readers with all kinds of new content from surprising creators.
- 10. Unimaginable technologies
Technology will continue to have a massive impact on how we work and the services we deliver.

LIBRARY AND INFORMATION PROFESSIONALS

A further ten themes looked at the professionals who work in library and information services.

- 1. Balancing the workforce
New recruits will help increase age diversity.
- 2. Higher paid jobs
Salaries will better reflect the importance of our role.
- 3. Aiming for the top
We will need to sharpen our business skills, demonstrate flexibility and help lead change.
- 4. What we call ourselves
Librarians and information professionals will co-exist.
- 5. Guardians of privacy
We see an expanded role as guardians of our users' personal privacy.
- 6. Technology for all
Every LIS professional will need to be proficient in IT.
- 7. Beyond the library
We will find new employment opportunities outside traditional library settings.
- 8. Ongoing learning
Professional development will be a necessity for anyone on a career trajectory.
- 9. Future leaders
Succession planning and support for emerging leaders will be essential.
- 10. Visibility
Remaining visible in an increasingly digital environment will be one of the challenges.
